Visit the degree and career finder website:
<https://degrees.griffith.edu.au/>

2

Select the 'courses' button to search for a course

3

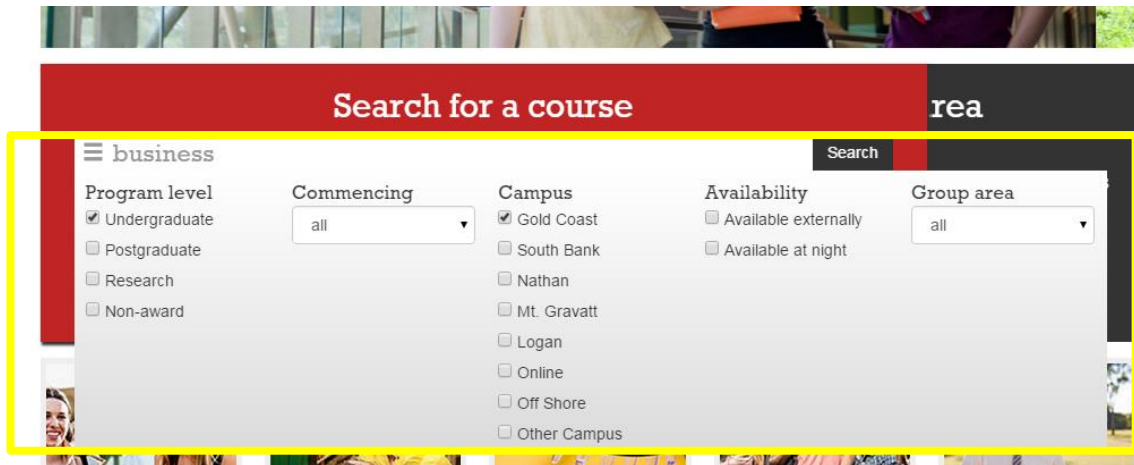

Type in a keyword
Examples: 'business communication', 'engineering' or 'digital design'
