Module Title
	The Historians Toolkit
Level	4
Semester	1
Ref No:
Credit Value	20 CAT Points
Student Study hours	60 Student Contact Hours 140 Student managed learning hours: including 10 hours of VLE related activity and preparation —with a focus on reading & considering extracts from original materials.
Pre-requisite learning	None
Co-requisites	None
Excluded combinations	None
Module Coordinator	Charlotte Clements
[Name + e mail address]	clemenc6@lsbu.ac.uk
Parent Division	Social Sciences
Parent Course	BA History
JACS Code
Description [100 words max]	This module will enable students to develop their own personal research skills e-portfolio by giving them supervised practice at note-taking, referencing, group-work, participation in class debate, research and production of an extensive bibliography for their independent research project. Students will be introduced to the range of sources available to them as historians including secondary sources, archival sources and digital sources. Students will be required to include a variety of source material in their assessed project. A number of visits will be made to key libraries and archives including the London Metropolitan Archive and the Women's Library @ LSE.
Aims	The module aims to provide students with:  the key skills required when undertaking historical research at university level

Learning outcomes  Employability	<ul> <li>the opportunity to develop their skills as independent historical researchers</li> <li>the ability to impart their findings in a meaningful and coherent manner</li> <li>an awareness of the wide diversity of historical sources available to them during the course of their degree</li> <li>an awareness of ethical considerations in historical research</li> <li>Describe the advantages and disadvantages of different source material and the benefits of using a range of diverse sources in historical research</li> <li>Identify issues for historical enquiry</li> <li>Evaluate evidence produced from historical research and describe how that evidence could be presented in a variety of forms</li> <li>Assess continuity and change throughout the historical period chosen for the independent project</li> <li>Create an independent research project</li> <li>Develop and apply skills of note-taking, referencing, writing and the production of an bibliography for their independent research project</li> <li>Students taking this module will develop a number of key skills currently required by employers of graduates. These include: oral and written skills, problem solving, planning and organisation, teamwork, decision-making, drive, digital literacy, initiative and</li> </ul> project management skills.
Teaching & Learning	The module will be taught in a four hourly weekly slot made up of
Pattern	lectures, workshops, group work and trips to libraries/archives.
Indicative content	<ul> <li>An introduction to 'doing history': how to frame a question for historical enquiry</li> <li>Understanding the importance of identifying change, continuity, context and conflict when exploring the past</li> <li>Note-taking, referencing and location of secondary sources</li> <li>How to choose a research subject</li> <li>Primary Sources: what represents a primary source?         <ul> <li>Learning how to identify and locate primary sources</li> </ul> </li> <li>How to construct a history research project? Workshop for students on the format, content and viability of their chosen research topics</li> <li>Archive Visit: The London Metropolitan Archives</li> <li>Primary Sources: Whose history is being told? How to ensure the inclusion of diverse and marginal life experiences through primary sources</li> <li>Archive Handling Sessions</li> <li>Oral History</li> <li>Objects and buildings as primary sources</li> <li>Thinking about ethics in historical research</li> </ul>

Assessment method

(Please give details – of components, weightings, sequence of components, final component)

Formative Assessment:

Each student will be required to write a number of short blogs, uploaded on the module moodle site, detailing progress throughout the Semester on their independent research project. The blogs will be reviewed during the weekly workshops with feedback from tutors and fellow students.

CW1: Independent research project presented to be submitted at the end of the module. (2000 words).

Indicative Reading

Core materials

- T. Loughran (eds) A Practical Guide to Studying History (2017)
- A. Brundage, Going to the Sources: A Guide to Historical Research and Writing (2013)
- L. Butler & A. Gorst, Modern British History: a guide to study and research (1997)
- L. Faire & S. Gunn (eds), Research Methods for History (2016)
- G. Griffin & M. Hayler (eds), Research Methods for Reading Digital Data in the Digital Humanities (2016)
- R. Perks (ed), The Oral History Reader (2015)
- J Tosh, The Pursuit of History, 5th ed (2015)

Optional reading

- D. Bates, Historical Research Using British Newspapers (2016)
- D. Beddoe, Discovering Women's History: A Practical Guide to Researching the Lives of Women since 1800 (1998)
- A. Brooks, The Right Side of History: 100 Years of LGBTQ Activism (2015)
- M. Cook, Queer Domesticities: Homosexuality and Home Life in Twentieth Century London (2014)
- D. Dabydeen, J. Gilmore & C. Jones (eds), The Oxford Companion to Black British History (2007)
- P. Gilroy & S. Hall, Black Britain: A Photographic History (2011)

D. Riley, Am I that Name? Feminism and the category of women in history (1998)

J. Scott, Gender and the Politics of History (1988)

W. Storey, Writing History: a guide for students (2015)

W. Webster, Imagining Home: Gender, Race and National Identity, 1945-1964 (1998)

Other Learning Resources

Module VLE: The moodle site presents a more visual dynamic and interactive point of contact and dissemination for the module. The site details the structure of the module, functions as a document repository and contains links to online (including audio-visual) learning materials for example to newspapers, organisations, digital archives, reports etc.

Box of Broadcasts

www.JSTOR.org

Relevant academic journals

A wide range of online sources and digital resources will be used to teach this module including:

Black Cultural Archive http://bcaheritage.org.uk

London Metropolitan Archives

https://www.cityoflondon.gov.uk/things-to-do/london-metropolitan-archives/Pages/default.aspx

Women's Library @LSE

http://digital.library.lse.ac.uk/collections/thewomenslibrary

Oral History Collection @British Library http://www.bl.uk/collection-guides/oral-history

British Library http://www.bl.uk

National Archives http://www.nationalarchives.gov.uk

Twitter and wordpress sites for a range of individuals and organisations utilising digital sources for historical research.